Date of Construction: 1942 - 1943. Improved 1978.

Engineer: U.S. Navy, Pearl Harbor Hawaii

Present Owner: U.S. Navy, Pearl Harbor Naval Shipyard, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii

Present Use: This building is used by the construction/weight handling equipment shop.

Significance: Building No. 58 is a permanent, three-sided, two story industrial building, containing a floor area of 31,400 square feet. This building consists of reinforced concrete footings, steel frame, metal siding and a flat bituminous built-up on metal roof. Other than maintenance and repair work, there were no major alterations to the exterior of the building.

Building No. 58 was originally constructed to function as a roundhouse for locomotives during World War II.
This function as a roundhouse ended in 1948. Present function is to repair the Shipyard's equipment such as cranes, diesel engines, forklifts, generators and compressors.

In 1964 the Secretary of the Interior, declared the U.S. Naval Base, Pearl Harbor, a National Historic Landmark. Following the establishment of the National Register of Historic Places in 1966, the Pearl Harbor Historic Landmark of which Building No. 58 is a part was included within this listing of America's historic sites.
